Professor Humphrey's

SPECIFIC

Homœopathic Medicines,

.....FOR.....

Families, Travelers, and others.

THESE Medicines have been carefully prepared, with a view of supplying families and others with Specific Remedies against all the more common diseases which occur in every day life. The list includes nationly remedies for all the more common diseases such as, Coughs, Colds, Headaches, Derangements of the Stomach, Fever, Worm Complaints, Diarrhœa, &c., but also for those more sudden and violent diseases which require to be met on the first onset of the moment, such as Cramp, Cholera, Dysentery, Inflammation, &c., for whose treatment it is very important always to have the proper remedies on hand. There are also remedies for those more delicate Female derangements which, if left unattended to, or improperly treated, are a source of much of the misery and infelicity in life.

These Medicines are prepared in the form of large Sugar Pellets, one of which is sufficient for the largest dose, and put up in boxes containing 36 pellets each. Each box, containing 30 to 40 pellets, and 16 boxes, for the different kinds, are enclosed in a case, accompanied with a small Manual or Book of Directions, giving a concise description of the diseases treated, and directions for giving the medicines, diet, &c., necessary for a cure. Cases, also, containing four or six of the most valuable kinds put up, which may be supplied at 75 cts. each of the different kinds at the option of the purchaser.

The principles of Specific Homœopathic Medicines—In prescribing other Homœopathic Medicines—in prescribing other Homœopathic Medicines on a consistent system will be recommended, for a cough, a headache, diarrhœa, or fever, and much care, study, and deep attention is required to select the proper one. But the sick will have a specific Remedy for each particular disease, and be more able to use them with benefit and certainty without that long and study which the unscientific man is so ill able to bestow, and without that research and examination which, to the inexperienced, is so perplexing, adding to, and unsatisfactory. The advantages are so obvious as to commend them to all.

Prepared by Dr. F. HUMPHREY, Lebanon, N. H., and sold by C. B. WALKER, Agent, for Maine, at 4 Market-st.

Cheap & Convenient Building.

Door, Sash and Blind Factory.

A. DUNBAR

HAS been very successful in completing several contracts for Door, Frames, Door, Window Frames, and Sashes, and Blinds, for grand dwelling-houses and other buildings to be erected in this city, the coming season. He has excellent workmen in his employ, and has superior stock, so that he is able to supply to those about to build the best articles of Door Frames, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds made to any dimensions and of superior quality, either for a whole building or for a less quantity. Their usual care and expense of building is very much lessened by having these articles made separately, so that the carpenters have only to put them in their place in the structure.

This business has become so well systemized that only a small margin is left in knowing before hand the cost of a dwelling house, when the work is of a uniform excellent quality.

Any one interested can examine specimens of the work at the factory, near the Road Place, or at the store of Mr. Ed. Jackson, 64 Exchange-st., and at other places where articles may be obtained in large quantities ordered.

Mr. Dunbar is also prepared to make Window Blinds ready painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice.

By long experience, and by dressing the pieces by machinery, the subscriber is now enabled to put his contracts, both in quality and price, and as well executed as the poorest, and available to all.

WHALEBONE SKIRTS.

THE only objection to Whalebone Skirts is to find a proper, graceful and elegant form in a lady's dress. This has been accomplished the article entirely worthless. The Ladies, by calling at Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashion for April, will notice that J. & J. HOLMES have been most successful in producing this most desirable article, and that their improved Whalebone Skirts meet the unanimous approbation of the Ladies. They are light, pliable, and easily adjusted, and for only fifty cents, is equally applicable to the parlor, the street and the crowded room as the piece or bradding, and in our opinion and in the opinion of thousands of ladies who have bought them, the most reliable article of the kind in the market. We were the first to introduce a Whalebone Skirt, and from our experience in the manufacturing and retail of these goods we have found that all kinds of cotton cord, and nearly all kinds of steel used in other Skirts cannot be used satisfactorily, as they will not recover their shape when pressed out of shape. We consider all as good but of whalebone material made, unless there is something of sufficient stiffness and elasticity, and at the same time pliable, to keep the dress in proper shape below the hoops. To secure this we have our cord made to order expressly for our goods and from the only material that will receive the proper stiffness when pressed out of shape, and are particular in saying that they will not rust or curl when wet, and warranted to wear without injury. The skirts are calculated against all worthless goods in the market, since our goods have become popular and extensively known, have been flooded with goods of all kinds, and put together without form or seamliness, or any other object but to sell, and we are called Whalebone Skirts. Some manufacturers, in their efforts to profit by our reputation, have gone so far as to copy almost exactly our trade mark upon their goods.

PLEASE NOTICE.—Each genuine skirt is stamped E. & J. Holmes' Improved Seamless Whalebone Skirt, and may be found by the trade in many of the largest Jobbing Houses in New York and Boston, and retail in the principal Dry Goods stores.

THE GREATEST SECRET DISCOVERY

Of the Age.

DR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds, a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR

From the Worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over 1000 cases, and has never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a run ning mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of blotches.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Ringworm.

Two bottles are warranted to cure at any time all humors in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure minute of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure most of the worst cases of running sores.

One bottle will cure any eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Five to six bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when a sufficient quantity is taken.

Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect it has in every case. Some as water, will call it a shallow humbug, others will call it a humbug, but I care not what they call it, but that sold another; since I sold the first bottle I have never failed in giving perfect satisfaction. There are two things about this which I must appear to the world, first, that it is grown in our pastures, and in some places quite plentiful, and not yet its value has become known, and the second is its cheapness, for I have used it in 1848—every one that it should be in all kinds of families.

In order to give some idea of its sudden introduction and great popularity, I will state that in April, 1853, I peddled out and sold about six bottles per day—in April, 1854, I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it.

Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and twenty years, say that nothing in the annals of patent medicines was ever like it. There is a universal demand for it from all quarters.

In my own practice I always keep it strictly for our use—but since its introduction as a general family medicine, its great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected.

Several cases of spinal affection—disease which was always considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. Oh, what a mercy it will prove to that few who have seen more of it than I have.

I cure of several cases of Dropsy, all of the worst grade, cured with

For the various diseases of the Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side, Laxation of the Spine, and particularly in Diseases of the Kidneys, the discovery has done in one good time and a month more than ever.

No change in diet is necessary—eat what you can get, and enough of it.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adults one table spoonful every other morning before breakfast.

Children of four to eight years, a dessert spoonful—Children from five to eight years, tea spoonful. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.

The Principal Office for the State of Maine and the British Provinces, is at the Drug and Medicine Establishment of H. H. HAY, 54 & 56 Market Square, Portland, Maine, to whom all orders should be addressed. Sold by respectable Druggists throughout the United States and British Provinces.

PRICE $1.00.

ARE GOOD FOR.

They have been made and sold 40 years—eight years by the present proprietor, and upon this great truth; he has found in the possession of something that they have cured and helped thousands, yea, thousands of cases of

INDIGESTION,

Serrous Debility, Sick Headache,
Derangement of the Digestive Organs,

Torpor of the Liver and Bowels.

Reader!—you are appealed to earnestly. Don't say, "If I could only believe this to be true I have some of the above complaints, and I would take the medicine at once." I could convince you of it. IT IS TRUE: it is an honest truth, if ever there was one spoken. Come then, if your mind is irritable, the outlooks, and gloomy—if you have no energy, your pains affect eating your food—if your body begins to waste, or your strength to fail, you are in your commencement of a hard and sallow complexion—if you have a difficulty in lying on your left side—if your skin is dry and shrivelled—if you have an appetite, and variable, and perhaps entirely destroyed—if your whole system is languid, especially during the process of digestion—if you have a constant uneasy feeling in the stomach—why, you need only a bit of INDIGESTION and these great Bitters are to cure Indigestion, and they will do it, too—and all attendant ills; and what is it gently cleansing the stomach, cleansing and removing these troublesome agents, IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office (under the act of 1837,) determined to pursue actual practice, applying for patents, inspection to those offices, favored by others, has taken arrangements, solely on application, prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be furnished by him in cases of failure to obtain a patent, and the whole service, throughout, will be finished in thirty days after receipt of model.

This agency is now one of the largest in New England, but throughout the country have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by any, and not unfrequently superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The following notice, given from that office in MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has permanent rooms for pursuing, and that above, that all no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. Thus, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, under this rule, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Communication was received from S. P. Strickland, declining the office of Director of the Penobscot & Kennebec Railroad.

[ON THE PASSAGE.]

For repair of Gutter and West side of Exchange street.

Directing Commissioner of Streets to remove all fences which may be found within the limits of Essex street on the East side, between somerset and Union streets.

Adjourned to first Monday in August.

COURT CALENDAR.—The Law term of the Supreme Court will commence its session in this city to-day, for the Counties of Aroostook, Washington, Piscataquis, Hancock, Waldo and Penobscot. The term will be held by Tenney, C. J.; Appleton, Hathaway, Goodenow and May, J. J.

At twelve o'clock there will be a fast meeting at the Court House, to adopt resolutions on occasion of the death of Geo. B. Moody, Esq.

And previous to the adjournment at noon, it is expected the death of Mr. Moody will be announced by Hon. Kent to the Court.

STEAMER MANHATTAN SAPPHIRE.—This steamer, which went ashore on Thatcher's Island, Friday night, remained in the same position yesterday, although great exertions were made on Saturday by the steamers Lewiston and Eastern City to get her off. The wood ends of the steamer were started forward and she continued to leak rapidly. At high tide she was more than half full of water. Her bows hang high and dry upon the rock, and there is about the feet of water under her stern.

A portion of the passengers left the steamer Saturday morning in the schooner Flying Dart, and reached the city in the evening. The balance of the passengers were brought up to the city Sunday morning, in the steamer Lewiston, which returned to get a further supply of coal by order of and on hearing the steamer. The passengers saved their baggage.

The Lewiston returned to Thatcher's Island yesterday, with additional coals, &c., and another trip to the unfortunate steamer will be made by her yesterday afternoon, at high water.—Boston Journal, of Monday.

John Shaw, Esq., received a dispatch yesterday noon, at which time she had not been got off.

It seems that the second pilot had left the wheel house for a moment, and on his returning the course of the steamer had been varied a little, which caused her to run upon the rock.

Capt. Hale was in command, and he bears the reputation of being one of the most careful and skillful masters in New England.

IN CONVENTION.—FREMONT A SLAVEHOLDER!—The Boston Post, notwithstanding Speaking continues to hoist from the friends of Col. Fremont, asserts that he is. It will continue to do so till Novembe, for it well knows that a lie well stuck to is almost as good as a truth, and for its purposes nothing better can be had. Senator Hamlin of Maine, whose opportunities to know are sufficiently good, and whose veracity will hardly be questioned by the Boston Post, says of Col. Fremont:

"John C. Fremont is an anti-slavery man, and has always been one from his boyhood. Although a native of Georgia and brought up in South Carolina, in spite of heavenly associations, he was never for Freedom. When embarking on his Western tour, he was asked if it was not his intention to purchase a slave as a servant for his wife. His reply was, 'I prefer to spend the dollar in Ancient Law, and while slavery holds its sway in my brain, I never will.'

The steamer Daniel Webster left here yesterday morning, with several hundred passengers, many of whom were delegates to the Fremont Convention, accompanied by the Brewer Artillery, numbering between 30 and 40 muskets. The returning train of cars carried off about 200 to the Convention, and the Belmont cars about fifty more. When the morning train left Danville Junction there were eleven large passenger cars crowded full. It will undoubtedly be the largest Convention ever held in the State.

DELEGATES.—A very large delegation arrived per steamer Daniel Webster, marched up town in procession with banners &c. and made a splendid appearance—great enthusiasm prevails.

The Lincoln Democrat said, before the recent State Convention assembled in Bangor:

The Democratic State Convention commences its session to-day (Tuesday.) The Whig Convention is now at its many plans. We trust the two parties, differing be they so, only in name, will find it for the true interest of both to unite on one candidate.

The Belfast seeking leaders Patriot only in name! Mr. Democrat; then you will find there is a more radical difference on the part of the honest Whig voters, which will be shown at the polls.

The Daily Advocate will not be issued again until Thursday, in consequence of the absence of the Editor, and other causes which the printer cannot overcome. So says a card in last paper on yesterday.

Antiquities and Graves.

MR. EDITOR:—It was my happiness not long since, to spend a few days in the old and very pleasant town of Haverhill, Massachusetts.

In looking over a history of the place, by an old acquaintance, B. L. Marick, Esq., I found among many other quaint items, that the town, about the year 1700, voted to employ Abraham Tyler to blow his horn an hour before meeting time on Sabbath days, for which service he was to receive a peck of corn annually from each inhabitant.

They also, about 1740, arraigned one of the inhabitants for living a solitary life, and commanded him to depart the town forthwith, or live in a more orderly manner. (Bachelors would have stood a poor chance for the Presidency in those days.)

A few hours were pleasantly devoted to deciphering the inscriptions upon the ancient tombstones in the old grave yard, some of which bear as early a date as 1680.

Among them were the following:

Twins.

Daniel & William,
Sons of Mr. John & Hannah Pecker, was born March ye 18th, 1724, & William died March ye 30, 1724.
Daniel died January ye 13th, 1727, was 2 days old.

Here lyes buried in ye land of forgetfulness, All that was mortal of ye Rev. Mr. Joshua Gardner. A man good betimes, and full of ye H. Ghost in faith, a vessel of an excellent temper. D'd 1720.

Here lyes D'd
John Woodson, who D'd 1707-
He lived honestly
All his life,
and d'd aged 76;
And never had a wife.

I would be well for the town authority to take measures to have some "Old Mortality" to brush off the moss, and chisel out these odd and quaint inscriptions, that they may be transmitted to the coming generations.

A FOUND AT A FREMONT CLUB was temporarily organized on Saturday evening last, by the choice of John H Foster, Esq., as Chairman and J. F. Hall, Secretary. They chose a Finance Committee, and a Committee to report a list of officers for a permanent organization. They also voted to send a delegation of twenty to the Convention at Portland, to-day. The next meeting will be on Thursday evening.

We trust none of our friends will have occasion to regret, when too late, not having tried the Rheumatic Dynamic System of medicine. Dr. Sumner will remain in the city till about the 12th inst. See advertisement in another column.

DEATH OF GEORGE B. MOODY.—We regret to announce the death of one of our esteemed fellow citizen George B. Moody, Esq., which took place yesterday noon (5th) after a lingering illness of several months. Mr. Moody was about 54 years of age and was born at Kennebunk. He was graduated at Bowdoin College in 1821 and was the class-mate of Hon. Edward Kent. He studied law in Paxton, and subsequently opened an office in Gardiner, then at Bangor, in which places he remained but a few months. He then went to Oldtown where he remained several years and thence removed to this city, where he has practised law for nearly thirty years. Mr. Moody possessed scholarly attainments, was solid and thorough rather than brilliant in the profession, and above all was distinguished for dignity and courtesy of manners and integrity of character, which made him esteemed by all in a professional and official and by his fellow citizens, so far as his naturally quiet and reserved habits admitted of general acquaintance. His death will leave a void among the older members of the profession, and will be deeply lamented by an extensive family connection.—Journal 7th.

Resolutions for Freedom and Free Speech.

The Maine Democratic Convention which recently held its session at Hallowell week before last passed the following resolutions unanimously:

Resolved, That we, Democratic delegates in Maine, assembled in Convention, take occasion again to pronounce our unqualified judgment upon American slavery, as evil in its character, and in its fruits contrary to christian, righteousness, human welfare, a harm and a shame to our Christianity and our civil station.

Resolved, That in its encouraging and mischievous aggressions, both upon the free soil and upon the free labor fairly which it has appropriated to itself in the past only which it endeavors, but upon the Territory, the Constitution, the Liberties of the Republic, its disturbing influences in our public affairs, civil and religious, its sleepless and clearer developments of its evil nature, growing worse continually, as well as now and stronger reasons for all righteous and effectual resistance to it.

Resolved, That while we glorify the Union, and in the name of Constant and humanity maintain our right to its free, we must also keep our own freedom inviolate, at all hazards; and, regarding the attack lately made upon an American Senator as one not a personal outrage upon him than a violence upon free speech and guaranteed rights, as such as an exhibition of the cowardly, brutal and despotic spirit of slavery itself, we also, and now, as Republicans who hold Liberty as a religious right, as Americans, who have received it as a blood-bought heritage from men naiming it for all mankind, solemnly and well regard and condemn this act.

Resolved, That in the struggle now going on upon our Western Frontier so far as it becomes a contest between Slavery and Freedom, we have no question where our sympathies should be, and while we deprecate the armed violence of the conflict, we feel it to be our duty to encourage and help those who seek to establish human Freedom from that land once and forever consecrated to Freedom.

Resolved, That we believe the Press is required to give a more prominence to the great wrong, so far as it has relations to Christ's Truth and obstructs Christ's Kingdom than we have yet seen, and we earnestly would call upon our christian brethren and join with them in looking to the rising sun as Lord on Hurt who is the strength and confidence of His people, praying that he would bring out of lines dark and troubled events, not only Peace but the Deliverance of the Bondman, the establishment of Justice, the progress of His Kingdom and the Glory of His Name.

MR. SUMNER'S CONDITION.—Under date of Tuesday, Mr. Greeley sent to the New York Tribune the following report respecting the Massachusetts Senator:

Mr. Sumner is worse, and is declared in danger of softening of the brain, by his medical friends. He is confined to his bed all the time and will hardly be permitted to resume his seat this session. He will never fully recover.

MAD DOGS.—A confirmed Hydrophobia had its origin upon the morning of the 5th inst. Dr. Ring from a fence during the exhibition of the works of Dan ... Circus on Union street. He was attended by Dr. Newman.

SPEECH OF HON. J. WASHBURN, JR., OF MAINE.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, June 21, 1856.

The House being in the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union.

Mr. WASHBURN, of Maine said:

Mr. CHAIRMAN: In this year, 1856, a great moral and political battle is to be fought. It is the old conflict—the strife of centuries and continents—but one of its decisive conflicts is here and now impending. As it shall be decided, so will run the history of America and of mankind for ages. The cause so clamorously presented, the parties, so boldly arrayed; the theater, so vast and commanding; the time, so quick and ripe; raise it to an elevation immeasurably above any controversy which this world has witnessed for two hundred years. In this elemental war—this struggle of principles—shall justice, truth, and humanity prevail, and give the chance to an earnest, increasing, generous civilization, under whose benedient sway the earth shall be subdued, the forces of nature held open, and the laws of human progress truly interpreted, and made subservient to the advancement and welfare of the race? or, failing, shall the civilization itself, the field of so many struggles, sacrifices, and hopes—

The choice of all the agents in the moral life of time, be left to the fate which everywhere and forever attends the supremacy of wrong, falsehood, and inhumanity?

Sir, it is for you for the representatives of the people here, but rather for the people themselves in their primary places of power, in the forum which precedes the caucus and the ballot-house, to answer. The powers of right and wrong are face to face; and, voluntarily or otherwise, upon the one side or the other, you are all enrolled in the service.

The old controversy goes on, but the issues change. No longer, however, to unify themselves against the patriarchal and individual wrongs which the reformers of past ages denounced and resisted. Not alone the work of Luther, not merely the work of Hampden, not of Milton, Marvell, Algernon Sydney, of Washington and Jefferson, is for this time or for you—but another and greater, an embracing theirs and that of every reforming and philanthropist, of every law-giver and statesman, in the annals of Commonwealth. It is yours to decide, to continue, or end, to exterminate the monstrous delusion, that man can rightfully and justly hold property in man. Since the days of Luther, no such cause, in the vastness of its issues, and the fearfulness of its possibilities has summoned men to the battle fields of principle and opinion.

That slavery is right is for you to plead and maintain openly, boldly, defiantly before the world, and impartially before heaven. We are told that it is founded in truth and justice, that it is so wise and proper that it ought not to be limited in its bounds to any portion of the country; and that to enlarge its area is a duty, so high and compulsory as to justify the breach of compacts and compromises, and the violation of the most solemn pledges of honor and good faith.

This is the doctrine of to-day, spoken in words by the representatives of half of the States in the Union, and written legibly—ay, sir, in letters of crimson, which neither heat nor frost, nor thunder shall obliterate, in their works and deeds. There is a title-deed to found for every claim, or deception. No right, or slaveholder can excuse the system of slavery, and herein is its unfortunate distinctness. They justify it and plant themselves upon it as a blessing, which they propose for the people of the free States shall enjoy as they themselves, whether they will or not, or have the advantage from its common history of the nation; for they are owed full well—none better, because they have seen it all their lives—that where slave labor is permitted, free labor is virtually excluded, that if Kansas admits slave labor, she at the same time and by the same act repels free labor. I mean such labor as exists and thrives at the North—intelligent, energetic, thrifty, remunerative labor, and not the ragged, unlearned, untaught, white laborer of the surrounding States.

Since slavery has laid claim to this principle, it becomes the people of the free States to inquire more carefully than they have deemed necessary heretofore into its just character and claims. To protect the North the whole question is now opened. If slavery be right, it is very right that there ought, to be no cage upon its feet, and it is our duty to cease all opposition to its extension; if wrong, it ought to be put in fetters, and it is our duty to keep it in the narrowest possible constitutional limits. The claim that it shall go into Kansas implies the declaration that it is right. The real question, therefore is as much with us, as it is anywhere, for the one thing than with things it is, and says no, I have suspect, for the deep face which believes that it is wrong, and says practically by assent and votes that it is, I have a thing but loathing and unutterable sorrow. Sir, if Slavery be right in the largest sense, it is indeed—it is for the advantage of the timber in the slaveholder, and of the State. If it is wrong either, it can have no good foundation in principle or in fact. It is justifiable or defensible at all, it cannot be limited to the South. The negro is a man. Reason is upright; all laws, human, speak, feels, as other men.

[Illegible] Thus [illegible] that slavery is right, that slaveholding [illegible] Richmond Enquirer, and [illegible] slavery is generally admit that there is no foundation in reason for limiting slavery to the negro, and maintain that the whites who are ignorant and dependent upon the labor of their hands for subsistence ought to be held in slavery, and that it would be better for them to be slaves than freemen. To this point I quote the Enquirer as follows:

"They (those holding Mr. Jefferson's doctrine) begin by assuming that society to be morally and religiously wrong, and the South authorized to control its policy, and attempt to establish a community of principles, by bringing the slavery system up to the standard of the free States. The issue is between the North and the South. The issue of the Declaration are unalterable, and must remain forever as they are. But the North is attempting to [illegible] slavery is a moral and political evil, and must be abolished. That is the issue, and the only issue. We accept it as such, and proclaim the existence of slavery to be right, just and beneficial in itself."

Again in another article, the Enquirer says:

"Freedom is not necessary to slavery. Every [illegible] and every [illegible] requires gradation of rank and position. In fact, the very existence of society rests in a large degree upon the necessity of which such a state as that where slavery does not exist."

A Mr. Fitzhugh, of Virginia, published, in 18[illegible], a work in which he [illegible] Sociology for the South, or the Failure of Free Society, and which has been extravagantly commended in the Slave States as an exposition of the foundation and philosophy of slavery. From an appendix to this volume, I make the following extracts:

"In mild countries human nature can devise no effectual measure to prevent the poor, where lands have become separate property, except by making slaves of those who have no property to defend. Save property and there is left, in fact, no foundation for a community of struggle. The history of the free States of Europe, for the last seventy years, and the present condition of the poor in free States, we think abundantly prove this. All parties admit that pauperism creates political dangers. They must agree that to abolish pauperism would remove political dangers. Communism arises [illegible] Slavery protects the weaker members of society, and does so the relations of master, guardian, and husband, and of no unnecessary, or hardship, and almost as universal as these relations."

"Ten years ago we became satisfied that slavery, under our system, was right and necessary. We advocated this doctrine in very many essays."

This is the logical and consistent southern doctrine, and whoever believes in slavery cannot stop until he reaches this startling position.

Of the evil and wrong of slavery, so far as respects the slave, I do not propose to speak at length. They are so glaring and obvious, and so much has been said and written upon the subject, that to say so will be to me, one might hope, a work of supererogation. A system which buys and sells, steals, worries, and kills children, as if they were brutes, which regards not the relation of husband and wife; separates parent and child; which mocks the ties of kindred, and wrongs, in the foul and dark waters of gloom and sensuality, the sweetest and holiest affections of the heart, can require no opposition from me.

No sir, no [illegible] can make this thing of right. God [illegible] can make it right. You Heaven it for what [illegible] purposes does not distract from its [illegible] wrong, nor justify its supporters and apologists. That He did not make it right may be seen in the consequences and penalties which attend on the monstrous [illegible] year after year. Bloodthirstiness, and so nations, in the history of the world, ever tolerated as many [illegible] with impunity. Envy and death have followed to embrace in all countries and all ages. It might not have been otherwise [illegible] different time but not under the American [illegible] if they commit themselves irrecoverably to the great wrong.

The influence of slavery upon the community [illegible] manifest by [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and

... a radical change relative to this ... since he sent in his veto ... on the River and Harbor bill two years ago. On that occasion, the President declared ... upon a general bill, because it contained some objectionable items ... there were ... enormous ... and if separate bills ... appropriating ... he would approve and sign them.

This was precisely the course the Senate pursued, ... objects were ... and ... tional, those in the bill ... the President recently vetoed, would escape under that head.

Mr Cass argued in favor of the constitutionality of these improvements ... the views of Jackson and Calhoun to sustain him in his positions.

The question was taken, shall the bill pass the objections of the President to the contrary notwithstanding, and the vote resulted: Yeas, 31 Nays 19

The Chair announced that two-thirds of those present having voted for the bill, it was passed.

Mr Mason thought it required two thirds of all the members of the Senate and appealed from the decision of the Chair. A discussion ensued in which Messrs Seward, Benjamin Thompson of Kentucky, Sidell, Crittenden and others sustained the Chair, and Messrs Biddle, Clay Toombs Mason and others opposed the decision. A vote being taken the Chair was sustained, by 34 ayes to 7

The Senate then passed the St Marys River and St Clairs Flats improvement bill, over the President's veto the former by 28 against 10, and the latter by 28 against 8

The House bill for the admission of Kansas, was referred to the committee on Territories — and ...

The House passed a resolution supplying new members with books of a public character similar to those issued to members of the last Congress

A message was received from the President relative to the appropriations heretofore made for the purpose of procuring from Hiram Powers the, Sculptor, some work of art to adorn the Capitol, from which it appears such a purpose is still pending

The House ordered to be engrossed for third reading the bill providing for a settlement of officers of the Revolutionary Army and the widows and orphans of those that died in service

Mr Houston moved a suspension of the rules in order to act on the Senate's resolutions fixing a day for the adjournment of Congress Negatived by 74 against 96.

The Senate bill authorizing the people of Kansas to form a Constitution and State government was ordered to be printed, together with the amendments offered by Messrs Dunn, Haven and Benjamin of New York Mr Campbell of Ohio, ... leave to offer a resolution providing for the appointment of a select committee by the Speaker to report a bill for the adjustment of old Bleeding ... Kansas and the preservation of peace ... good order, embracing a provision for the exploration of the Missouri Compromise, the protection of voters, the removal of test oaths, etc

Mr Cobb of Ga said the Senate bill was good enough for the time. He moved to adj...

In the House to-day the Democrats generally unsuccessfully voted to suspend the rules to take up the Senate's resolution fixing a day to close the session while the republicans as decidedly opposed it The Ayes and Noes divided the greater part of them voting with the democrats.

There seems to be no doubt but that the Senate's amendments to town sites will report the Kansas bill passed on Thursday as a substitute for the House bill and in that shape return it to the latter body where its success is doubtful.

The Illinois to act on the river improvement bills which the Senate passed to-day over the President's veto Mr Brights decision so decisively ... aimed establishes a precedent relative to the Constitutional vote in such cases.

Another Fight.

Richmond, June 7

Hugh R. Pleasants a brother of the late J. E. Pleasants, and formerly editor of the Penny Post of this city went this morning into the Executive Chamber of the Capitol, where Gov Wise was engaged writing and taking a seat by invitation of the Gov, said, after a brief period I thought Gilmer Post would be here. Gov Wise smilingly replied, I am the man. P. assents rose from his seat and approaching the table at which the Gov sat, said, by god did you know you, and so you are the fellow, and Guard Post, ... rejoined the Gov with a smile, and you are Hugh Pleasants.

Pleasants thereupon commenced abusing the Gov without any provocation whatever, when the Gov ordered him to leave the room, but he refused to do so. The Gov. then rose from his seat, approached Pleasants and taking hold of him, ordered or attempted to push him out, he resisted, squared off and pitched himself in an attitude to strike, when the Gov struck him with his fist under the left eye, and ... pretty severely. He then seized him by the arm, threw him around and kicked him At this time the messenger of the Executive came up, and had him removed by the order of the Gov

It is said that Pleasants was intoxicated

The Know Nothings of the city are very indignant about the affair

The Work Goes Bravely On.

The Boston Bee, the leading Fillmore paper of Boston and New England, on Thursday, pulled down the Fillmore flag and hoisted that of Fremont. It says

"When we raised the ... of Millard Fillmore as our standard bearer, we had a strong hope that he would have been an acceptable candidate upon whom all the elements of opposition to the slavery extending, sectional and misnamed Democratic party might have been concentrated In this we have been disappointed Recent occurrences, together with Mr Fillmore's unfortunate absence from the country has had much to do with bringing about this state of feeling

This is but another ... of the strong and ever-whelming feeling in favor of Fremont, the people's candidate, and in opposition to the aggressive and outrageous slavery
